This summer, we will get lost in number of amazing books that will captivate and engage our campers in numerous activities and adventures!

We will take our cues from our authors and characters to provide our campers with themed works, science experiments, nature walks, cooking experiences, art projects, etc.

“Reading is the gateway for children that makes all other learning possible.”

– Barack Obama

Each week, we will delve into a book series that will guide our works and guests for the week. We will start with ...

Reading books about Juneteenth and featuring books written by African Americans authors such as

- Mae Among the Stars inspired by the life of the first African American woman to travel in space, Mae Jemison, and written by Roda Ahmed.
- Imani's Moon a delightful mix of folklore and fantasy that follows Little Imani as she works up her courage and confidence to achieve big thing, written by JaNay Brown-Wood
- Grandpa Cacao: A Tale of Chocolate, from farm to family written by Elizabeth Zuno.

Book Series for the Summer will include:

- The Questioners who will enchant us with the adventures of Iggy Peck, Rosie Revere, Ada Twist, Sofia Valdez and Aaron Slater. Written by Andrea Beaty and David Roberts.
- Mercy Watson, the fictional pig stars in the enchanting series, written by Kate DiCamillo.
- Diary of a Pug by Kyla May is series about a pug and his human, told from the pug's POV ☺
- Magic Tree House by Mary Pope Osborne. Magic, mystery, time-travel and so much more!
- How Do Dinosaurs will bring prehistoric creatures to life telling of their relatable and hilarious ways. Written by Jane Yolen.
- Pigeon Series by Mo Williams. Our students will be enchanted by the many funny antics of the Pigeon.
- Amelia Bedelia's loveable tales by Herman Parish.
- Charlie & Lola, a series depicting the antics of two loving siblings, written by Lauren Child.
- Henry and Mudge written by Cynthia Rylant. Henry learns many lessons from his 182 pound English Mastiff.
